

Eighth Grade Endeavors

May 14, 2012

Parents,

Tempus fugit! It is hard to comprehend that this school year will be over in two weeks! Students need to remain focused as they have several tasks to complete between now and then. Please encourage them to work diligently and finish up the school year strong!

Humanities: We finish up Bible presentations and Loquite! Monstrate! this week. As usual, there will be a quiz on the week's Bible projects on Thursday (1) and Friday (2&3)

Algebra I: We will continue factoring polynomials this week. Both sections will be tested on Tuesday May 22nd.

Algebra I Readiness: We will continue working multistep equations and adding some probability to the mix. Test on Thursday.

Geometry: This week we will finish our chapter on the area of polygons and circles. There will be a test on Friday May, 18th.

Latin: Students are learning the first, second and third person pronouns this week, as well as continuing toward mastery of Chapter 19 vocabulary words. They will be tested on this material on Tuesday, May 22nd (1,3) and Wednesday, May 23rd (5). Please note Market Day dates on the calendar below.

Logic: We will continue to work on formal proofs this week.

Composition: This week students are working on typing and perfecting their mini thesis! The typed rough draft is due at the beginning of class on Wednesday (8a) and Thursday (8b/c). Students have signed up for their presentation times beginning the week of May 21st. You are welcome to attend as an audience member☺

Science: We will begin learning about the nervous system this week. The test will be on Wednesday May, 23rd (1,2) and Thursday May, 24th (3).
